[The Honorable Louis Farrakhan]

Brothers and sisters, you deserve a break today

Brothers and sisters, you deserve a break today

Let us go forth from here

And as we go forth from here, let us build a greater cohesiveness and unity and love among ourselves

Let's build brotherhood, sisterhood, friendship, and fellowship, and sistership, and brotherhood, and get rid of the bullsh*t

Let's get rid of the na mess and pull together, and get away from this division and disunity that keeps us bowing at the feet of our enemy and oppressor, to divide

Us and to have conquered us, and has put us in this condition

Brothers and sisters, I thank you

Now, I want you to stand just for a minute, put your Black fists in the air

Everyone, put your fists in the air

Let us all pull together

Harambe!
